Proposal Project of Lingshed Gonpa Monks Toilet/Bathroom Construction in Himalaya Ladakh in Northern India

From the depth of hearts, all the monks appeal for help of donation

Lingshed Monastery (Gonpa) is situated at the remotest and most backward in the entire region of Ladakh in Himalaya in Northern India. The roots of monastery (Gonpa) can be traced to the tenth century. Over the century, the Gonpa has kept alive the Buddhist spiritual tradition for the benefits of the community. The monastery has about 68 monks including young monks.

The Monks of Lingshed Gonpa and patients will use these toilets/bathrooms during their stay. The bathrooms are important to have a shower for the monks for keeping better health.

The toilets/bathrooms are also important in respect of environment clean and preservation for keeping better health of all living beings in the society and surrounding villages.
